MANHATTAN COLLEGE.

INTRODUCTORY SKETCH.

Situation: Manhattan College, located in Manhattanville, New York City, occupies an elevated position on the east bank of the Hudson, and commands an extensive view of the river and the Palisades. Sufficiently far from the business part of the city to secure that retirement which is essential to persevering and successful study, it is yet near enough to afford easy access to the principal public libraries, art galleries, zoölogical and geological collections, etc.

Establishment: Manhattan College was organized and founded in 1853 by the BROTHERS OF THE CHRISTIAN SCHOOLS. In 1863 it was incorporated and chartered as a college by the Regents of the University of the State of New York, with power to grant all usual degrees.

Object: This Institution offers students the means of acquiring the highest grade of liberal education. It aims at training up Christian gentlemen and good citizens, and, by its varied course of study, affords them the necessary preparation for entering upon any walk of life.

Method: Under the conduct of the Brothers of the Christian Schools, Manhattan College enjoys the advantages which over two hundred years' experience has guaranteed to the system of education pursued there. Care is taken that every branch prescribed be thoroughly studied, and that nothing be learned merely by rote. With this view the students discuss the subject matter of each lesson in class independently of the language of the text-book, criticize one another's work, and give free expression to their opinions on all points open to debate. They thus accumulate ideas instead of mere words; they digest what they learn, and acquire thoughtfulness, self-reliance and facility of expression.

Since the vernacular language and literature constitute an essential feature of a sound education, special attention is given to their study, and no effort is omitted to make the students proficient in writing and speaking the English language.

Each month's work is examined at the close, and reports of the progress of the students are regularly sent to the parents.

Organization: Manhattan College is organized into two departments: Classical and Scientific—each embraces several grades of classes. To these two departments a third, or Preparatory, Department has been annexed; and thus students who enter the Institution at an early age find every needed advantage.

A thorough BUSINESS COURSE is added for the benefit of young men who propose to engage in mercantile pursuits, and who cannot command the time necessary to pursue the regular College course.

Students may either attend as DAY SCHOLARS OR RESIDE IN THE COLLEGE BUILDING, subject to regulations necessary for the maintenance of good order and discipline. Before and after class hours, resident students are under the charge of special prefects, and complete separation of the younger from the older pupils is secured.

Physical Training: Aware that physical training is also necessary to thorough education, the Faculty spare no pains to secure for their students all the advantages to be derived from approved modes of exercise.

Discipline: The Faculty rely mainly on paternal advice and moral influence to secure propriety of conduct, diligence in study, and gentlemanly deportment. The discipline is mild but firm.

As the College is conducted by the Brothers of the Christian Schools, the public need hardly be assured that the utmost attention is bestowed on the moral and religious training of all confided to their care.

Further information may be obtained by addressing the Secretary.

ADMISSION TO THE COLLEGE.

The most favorable time for entrance is in September, at the beginning of the scholastic year. The regular examinations for admission take place on the first Tuesday in September. Students will, however, be received at any time during the year, but not for a shorter period than five months.

Newly admitted students must present a certificate of good character and, if they come from another institution, a letter of honorable dismissal.

Each student, on being admitted, is examined and classified according to his attainments.

No student will be allowed to pass from one Department to the other until he has given satisfactory proof of his ability to pursue the proposed course.

Students from affiliated schools bearing certificates of having satisfactorily completed the course of studies in said schools, will be admitted to the corresponding class in the College without further examination.

Certificates of the Regents of the University of the State of New York are received in lieu of examination for admission, provided they have been issued within the year, or the candidate has a certificate of continued study since their date of issue. The candidate must, however, be examined upon such subjects as are not covered by Regents' certificates.

Parents residing in distant places are required to have in New York City a responsible person to act in their name, and to receive the student in case of dismissal.

GENERAL REGULATIONS.

The session begins on the first Tuesday in September and ends on the last Friday in June. It is divided into two terms, beginning respectively on the first Tuesday in September and on the first day of February.

Promotions are made at the end of the scholastic year, and occasionally at other times, when the work of the students, joined to the recommendation of the professors, shows fitness for a higher class.

Examinations are held every month, and summarized reports of same are furnished parents at Christmas, Easter and the end of the Session.

Letters, etc., from others than parents or guardians, are subject to inspection.

No student will be retained who is insubordinate, or who is known to indulge in vicious habits.

Students are not allowed to leave the College grounds without due authorization. No interruption is permitted in a student's lessons during class hours, except for grave reasons. Students may be visited on Sundays in the afternoon from one to five o'clock.

The attention of Charitable benefactors is called to the good which may be done to society by founding scholarships to pay in part, at least, the expenses of deserving and promising students, who otherwise might not be able to obtain the benefits of a Christian Education.

The names of all Benefactors will be entered on the BENEFACTORS' TABLET and will be suitably commemorated by the College.

Full particulars as to making these foundations may be obtained by applying to the President or the Secretary.

SOCIETIES.

Manhattan College Alumni Society.

OFFICERS:

President, JAMES J. GRADY, ... '73
First Vice-President, DANIEL F. COHALAN, . . '85
Second Vice-President, JOSE M. FERRER, M. D., . . '76
Third Vice-President, REV. JOHN B. SALTER, . . . '69
Historian, REV. JOSEPH H. BIGLEY, ... '73
Secretary, PHILIP J. SINNOTT, ... '89
Treasurer, REV. JOHN J. MORRIS, ... '83

The object of the Society is to keep alive among the Alumni the sentiment of affection for their Alma Mater, and to unite the graduates of successive years by a common tie of fellowship.

Regular meetings are held on Commencement Day, after the graduating exercises, and on the 22d of February.

There are three Reunions of the Society each year: at the Alumni Dinner, at the Memorial Mass on Decoration Day and at the Reception of the newly-graduated class on Commencement Day.

Manhattan Business Society.

All former students of the College who have received a Business Diploma, are invited to form a special society, which shall unite them more closely to Manhattan and to one another; propagate sound commercial principles, and cherish a spirit of fidelity to civic duties.

Religious, Literary, Scientific, and Musical Societies.

THE HOLY LEAGUE OF THE SACRED HEART OF JESUS is established among the students with the object of fostering piety and devotion, and of acquiring more thoroughly the true spirit of Christianity.

During the year the students organize themselves into various literary, scientific, and musical societies, and give entertainments to their friends.

In the winter months these societies give a regular course of evening lectures on entertaining and instructive subjects, frequently illustrated by stereopticon views. Many of these lectures count toward the attainment of a degree, and thus supplement the daily work of the classroom. As they are also open to the friends of the students, they are the contribution of the College toward the propagation of University Extension.

These lectures and entertainments are found to be efficient means by which the students acquire self-possession, ease of diction, and grace of delivery.

The Library.

The Library contains nearly 10,000 volumes. It is open between class hours and the students are permitted free access to its shelves. The best of the Current Periodicals are received and placed on file. Special mention is due to Mr. Martin Hanley and Mr. Patrick J. Castles for their contributions during the past session.

The Museum.

The College Museum contains one of the finest private collections in the State, and affords many and beautiful specimens for students of mineralogy and geology. The collections of shells and birds are sufficiently ample to repay close study. The herbarium of the flora of the neighborhood has been greatly admired.

The Chemical Laboratory.

The study of chemistry is specially directed to aid those young men who are preparing to enter the medical school. The work is both theoretical and practical, including extensive application in the laboratory of the principles of both organic and inorganic chemistry. Preparations for a course in Assaying have been completed, thus rendering the equipment adequate to the purpose of the department.
